VITA

Omama M. M. AlMurad is a Syrian national who was born on November 11, 1985, in Al Ain, United Arab Emirates. She was educated in local public schools and graduated from AlMuraijib High School as the highest academically ranked student in the class of 2004. She received Shaykh Zayed Presidential Scholarship for the top five outstanding students in the UAE to obtain an undergraduate degree at the American University of Sharjah, UAE, from which she graduated in 2008. Her degree was a Bachelor of Art in Mass Communication.

Ms. AlMurad received another scholarship from The Mohammed bin Rashid Foundation to obtain a graduate degree. In 2009, Ms. AlMurad began a master's program in Translation and Interpreting, (English/Arabic/English) (MATI) at the American University of Sharjah. She was awarded the Master of Art degree in Translation and Interpreting (MATI) in 2011.