<dc:description>The Encyclopedia of Women and Islamic Cultures Online crosses history, geography, anthropology, and global studies to provide an interdisciplinary, trans-historical, and global perspective on women and Islamic cultures in every region where there are significant Muslim populations. It aims to cover every topic of significant research, examining these regions from the rise of Islam to the present. The Encyclopedia of Women and Islamic Cultures Online crosses history, geography, anthropology, and global studies to create a groundbreaking reference work reflecting on gender studies and the Islamic world.

The screenshot displays the WorldShare Collection Manager interface. The top navigation bar includes 'WorldShare' and user information 'Veronique Lecat'. The main menu has tabs for 'Metadata', 'Acquisitions', 'Licenses', 'Circulation', 'Analytics', and 'Admin'. The 'Record Manager' sidebar on the left contains a 'Collection Manager' section with search filters and buttons for 'Activity History', 'Approve Changes to Global Collections', 'View Recent Collections', 'Create a Collection', and 'Settings'. The main content area shows the configuration for the 'ABI/INFORM Global' collection. It includes a 'Save' button, a dropdown for 'Contribute Changes to Global Collection', and a 'Deselect Collection' button. The 'Properties' section is expanded to show 'Local' and 'Global' tabs. The 'Global' tab contains the following fields: 'Collection Name' (ABI/INFORM Global), 'Collection ID' (PQUEST.sch3), 'Provider' (ProQuest), 'Description' (ABI/INFORM is a comprehensive business database...), 'Data Version' (release1503077638-PQUEST), 'Created' (07/23/2012, 08:49 PM), 'Selected' (05/04/2015, 08:57 AM), and 'Last Updated' (08/21/2017, 11:25 PM). The 'Attributes' section has checkboxes for 'Customizable' (checked), 'Demand Driven Acquisitions', 'Discontinued', 'Document Delivery', and 'Open Access'. The 'Notes' section has a 'Public' note field and two 'Staff' note fields, both containing the text 'content_id:12104741'. At the bottom, there are expandable sections for 'Linking', 'Holdings and MARC Records', 'Sharing', 'Titles', and 'History'.

WorldShare License Manager API

Search, Read, and List institution-specific license details from a central database of information and actions related to your library's licensed resources.

Status: Production Sandbox access: Yes

What you get

The WorldShare License Manager API provides access to data from WorldShare License Manager, simplifying electronic resource management by consolidating the information you need to keep licenses active and to show your users exactly what resources they can access.

This API includes access to:

- License information for an institution
- Specific individual licenses
- Search licenses by license name, collection name, or vendor name
- List all licenses for an institution with a given status

WorldCat knowledge base API

A read-only service for e-resource discovery and linking. Provides developer-level access to a library's information in the WorldCat knowledge base. The WorldCat knowledge base combines data about your library's econtent with access to it through linking features.

Status: Production Sandbox access: Yes

What you get

OpenURL requests provide

- Matches for article, journal, or ebook citations to the specific access points for that content available to an individual library
- Links to electronic materials with all appropriate account identifiers. So you can provide access to the content your library subscribes to, in one click.
- Any proxy information necessary to get an end user to full text content

Importing to LibGuides

The screenshot shows the LibGuides interface for the American University of Sharjah. The top navigation bar is orange and contains links for Home, Content, Tools, Statistics, Admin, and Help. The user's email, vramshaw@aus.edu, and a Logout link are also visible. The main content area is titled "A-Z Database List" and includes tabs for Databases, Settings, and Statistics. A "Back to A-Z Database List" button is present. Below this, a message states: "Import items from Serials Solutions or by using an Excel template." A dropdown menu is open, showing "Serials Solutions" and "Excel Spreadsheet" as options. A "Support" button is located on the right side of the page.

Importing to LibGuides

The screenshot shows the LibGuides interface for the American University of Sharjah. The top navigation bar includes 'LibGuides', 'Home', 'Content', 'Tools', 'Statistics', 'Admin', and 'Help'. The user is logged in as 'vramshaw@aus.edu'. The page title is 'A-Z Database List'. There are tabs for 'Databases', 'Settings', and 'Statistics'. A 'Back to A-Z Database List' button is present. Below this, there is a section for importing items, with a dropdown menu set to 'Excel Spreadsheet'. A light blue informational box contains instructions: 'This tool can both import new items and update existing items. For existing items, you'll need to add the ID of the database to the spreadsheet. Database IDs are in the left hand column in the table on the Databases page. See our documentation (opens in new window) for more information.' It also includes a section for updating existing database assets with three steps: 1. Download the import template and populate it with your database assets. 2. Save the template as a CSV file. 3. Click the button below to upload your file. A warning for Mac users states: 'Mac Users: Since Office for Mac does not use UTF-8 encoding, you'll want to find a Windows machine to work with your files (or a friend with a Windows machine who's willing to help.). Unfortunately, diacritics are not saved properly using Excel on Macs.' At the bottom of the box is an 'Upload File' button. The footer of the page says 'Powered by Springshare. All rights reserved.'

i This tool can both import new items and update existing items. For existing items, you'll need to add the ID of the database to the spreadsheet. Database IDs are in the left hand column in the table on the Databases page. See our documentation (opens in new window) for more information.

If Updating Existing Database Assets: Make sure you download your current data before making changes, in case you want to roll back those changes. ;)

1. Download the import template and populate it with your database assets. If this is an update (vs. adding new items), be sure to include the ID of the Database (from the table on the Databases page).
2. Save the template as a CSV file.
3. Click the button below to upload your file.

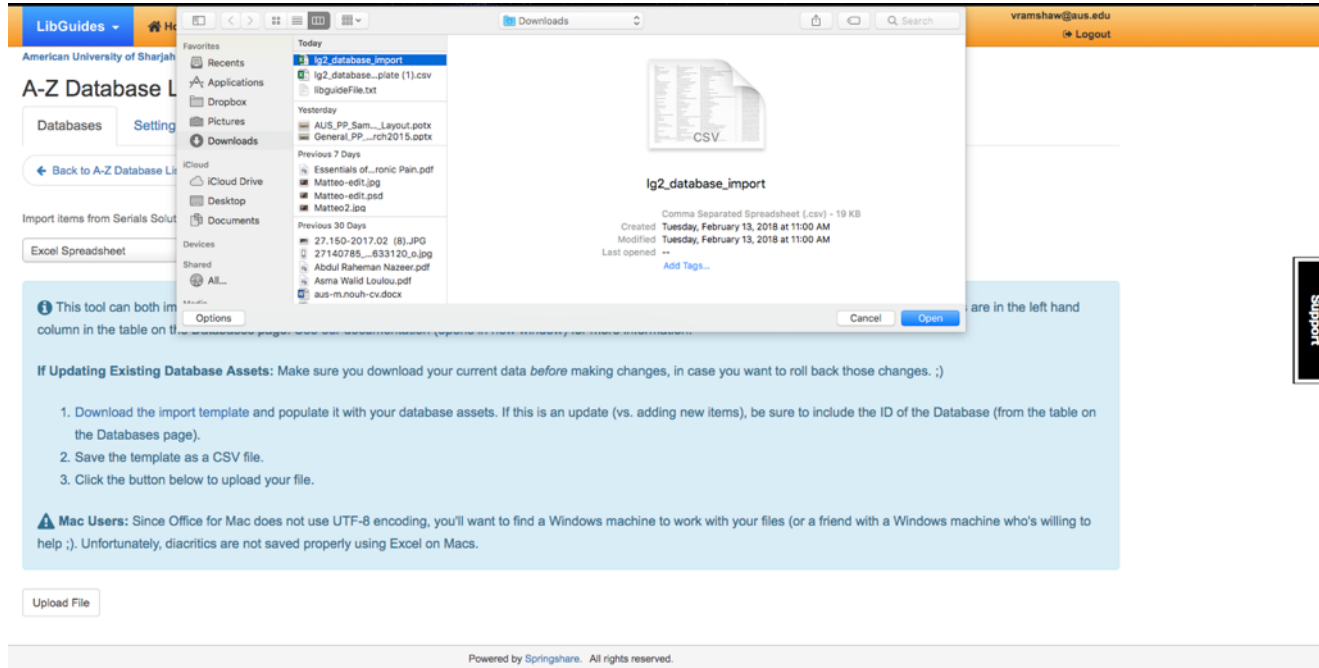

⚠ Mac Users: Since Office for Mac does not use UTF-8 encoding, you'll want to find a Windows machine to work with your files (or a friend with a Windows machine who's willing to help ;). Unfortunately, diacritics are not saved properly using Excel on Macs.

Importing to LibGuides
